3:00-4:00 p.m.	General Session School Policies and the Law Related to Cellular Phones and the Internet Dave Emmert, General Counsel, Indiana School Boards Association The practical frustrations of regulating student cell-phone possession and use are one thing, but the demands of preparing to defend a lawsuit would only raise stress levels geometrically. Consideration will be given to such topics as cell phone content searches, child abuse reporting requirements when certain sexual matter is discovered, confiscation and the length thereof, preserving evidence of a crime, use of jamming equipment and policies. This goal of this session is to raise the level of understanding for administrators to have clear direction in responding to cell phone issues; minimize chance of lawsuits; deter students from rule violations through enhancing their knowledge of consequences, including school discipline.
4:00 p.m.	Adjournment
